

B1 Dictations #1

50 words:

This weekend, my friends and I went to the beach. The weather was perfect—sunny and warm. We played volleyball, built sandcastles, and swam in the ocean. In the evening, we had a barbecue and watched the sunset. It was a fun and relaxing day.

70 words:

My cousin is visiting from another country, so we decided to take her on a tour of the city. We started with the museum, where we saw an amazing art exhibit. After that, we walked around the historic district, taking lots of photos. In the afternoon, we had lunch at a small café and tried some traditional food. It was great to spend time together and learn about our city's history.
